Diamond Spectacles.

THESE SPECTACLES are manufactured from "MINUTE CRYSTAL PEBBLES" melted together, and are called Diamond on account of their hardness and brilliancy. It is well known that spectacles cut from Brazilian or Scotch pebbles are very injurious to the eye, because of their polarizing light. Having been tested with the polariscope, the diamond lenses have been found to admit fifteen per cent. less heated rays than any other pebble. They are ground with great scientific accuracy, are free from chromatic abberrations, and produce a brightness and distinctness of vision not before attained in spectacles.
Manufactured by the Spencer Optical Manufacturing Comp New York. For sale by responsible agents in every city in the Union. H. A. HEATH & CO., Jewelers and Opticians, are sole Agents for Newport, R. FRIDAY, APRIL 3, 1874.

BARBARA FRIETCHIE'S GRAVE.

A correspondent who recently visited the grave of Barbara Frietchie writes as follows: "On a branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, about equal distance from Baltimore and Washington, on a pleasant slope among the green hills of Maryland, lies the quaint old town of Frederick, a place of some ten thousand inhabitants. While sojourning there last week we were invited by some of the citizens to visit the cemetery. On our way thither we passed the old camping ground of General Lafayette and his army, on the site of which is now erected the State Deaf and Dumb Asylum at an expense of nearly half a million of dollars. Several of the stone buildings erected by Lafayette, now nearly a hundred years ago, are still substantial looking fortresses. We drove on a half mile to the cemetery and alighted from our carriage at the grave of Barbara Frietchie—that heroic old lady who at the age of ninety-six, displayed a patriotism that thrilled the hearts of the whole country, North and South. While standing near the grave a young and beautiful girl, a grandchild of "Dame Barbara's," with a rich musical voice, recited Whittier's poem in a manner that affected us all with a more profound reverence for that brave old lady than we had ever felt before. We plucked a few sprigs of myrtle, breathed a silent farewell, and passed to the other side of the grounds, where in a bleak and apparently unfrequented portion we found a small, humble looking stone with this inscription:

> FRANCIS SCOTT KEYS,
> Born August 9, 1780,
> Died January 11, 1843.

—reminding us that we were at the grave of the author of the "Star Spangled Banner." We were a little surprised not to find a more imposing monument marking the resting place of one of America's greatest bards.

We could not refrain from singing the old song in honor of its author lying cold beneath the sod. The Hutchinson family sang the solos, while the whole party joined in the chorus. We were next shown into one of the tombs where we found a curiosity worthy of mention. There were but two coffins in this vault, and in them were the bodies of a man and wife, who died and were placed there in 1838. About ten years after some of the relatives wished to have the bodies replaced in new caskets. When the coffins were opened both the bodies were found to be in a perfect state of preservation. It is now thirty six years since they were buried, and still they show no signs of decay. The body of the woman especially seemed to be most perfect, showing no change except in color of leather. It is certainly a very remarkable case, as they were never embalmed. They simply died and were buried the same as other people; and they are much better preserved than any Egyptian mummy I have ever seen.

AFRICAN SCENERY.

The British troops in Ashantee certainly can behold some charming sights. Here is a picture of African scenery from the correspondent of the London Daily News:

When Lieutenants Richmond and Woodgate went up with their company to build a redoubt, the thickness of the undergrowth in the bush forbade any view whatever. By persistent hacking at this undergrowth, by felling the smaller trees and keeping up perpetual fires, they have cleared a considerable space upon the crest, and exposed a charming view. On either side rise loftier hills, clothed in green from base to summit. Very far off, in the misty distance beyond Coomassie, is a faint shadow of mountains. The level between, through which lies our road, is beheld through breaks of foliage exactly like that affectioned by the earliest of Italian painters. Giorgione might have studied his tree effects from this spot. The plain lies misty and vague, its tones of delicate verdure fading at the distance into a golden haze. High above the forest level uprise the pale green crowns of cotton trees, disdainful of lower growths. Creepers drop like a brown waterfall down the trunks. Great ruffs of fern encircle their branches or hang their leaves like stag horns from the topmost boughs. A few trees bear a crown of blossoms, scarlet or pink, but not to match in mass or beauty the brilliant garden of Fanteeland. Animal life—for all we see of it—might not exist at all in this country. We hear birds and beasts sometimes; occasionally we see parrots fly overhead, at a distance to skim the tallest boughs; but few of us have beheld a creature that runs or flies, except the insects. I meditate a short digression on the creeping things of Africa in some pause of the campaign. It is sufficient now to say that no country in the world can compare with this for variety and numbers of its insects.

Another correspondent writes—

"A little stream goes clean and clear over some shingly pebbles, and bends in and out above and below the road, among foliage rich enough to deck, not crowded enough to conceal it. Immediately after crossing, one of the richest banks of flowers which I have here seen presented itself; the chief feature being a gay plant, whose name I do not know, very like a cowslip in the actual flower, but with a bright white leaf standing out as if part of the flower itself behind each flower head, and the plant growing in luxuriant masses on stems six or seven feet high, the whole interwined with ferns and creepers innumerable. The band had a curious look; roots stood out from it as from the base of a fallen tree, and by the irregularity and ruggedness they gave to it added much to its picturesqueness and beauty. Yet the whole appearance of a bank, and not of a huge root, was there, from the completeness with which nature had decked every nook and cranny. I was rather puzzled, and went round behind it to find, plainly enough, stretching along behind it for, perhaps, sixty yards, the quite-rotten carcass of an old forest king—now no longer, except by its mere shape, distinguishable from a mound of rich earth, and covered all over with rich, high-growing moss and ferns and plants of all kinds.

NOT WISELY BUT TOO WELL.—The proprietor of one of the hotels in Richford, Vt., has a dog in his possession who is slowly terminating his days in grief for the loss of his master. The previous proprietor of the hotel owned the dog, which has black and tan blood in his veins, for almost eighteen long years, and was very much attached to him. The attachment was reciprocated by the dog, and about a year ago the master was taken ill and died. During his sickness the dog was shut up in a stable for the purpose of keeping him quiet and of weaning him from his master, whose absence he would most likely loudly bewail in the manner peculiar to such animals, and shortly after the funeral the poor brute was liberated. He immediately instituted a search for the grave of his late master, and soon found it, and would not leave it for three weeks. He was subsequently taken home, and for the past eleven months has been well fed and kindly cared for by the present occupants of the hotel, but no amount of kindness and petting will elicit from him any manifestation of joy, and he will, no doubt, soon follow his deceased master.—[Brattleboro (Vt.) Phenix.

AN INCIDENT OF THE CARNIVAL.—A correspondent of the Hartford Times, writing from Rome, Italy describes the events of carnival week, including the experience of an Englishman, who desired to haul down the American flag:

One Englishman threatened to take down our colors hanging from the balcony of Mrs. Major Goddard. "The nasty rag should come down." But he hesitated to do it himself. An American standing by, heard the speech. Walking in front of him, he said: "I will give you £100 if you will bring that flag to me. There are no men there to hinder you from executing your threat. Only ladies are present." The Englishman replied: "I was not speaking to you, an American snob." As quick as flash the Englishman felt himself hunting a soft place on the sidewalk. He bellowed like a bull. His friends attempted to arrest the "American snob," but were compelled to flee a dozen Americans coming to the rescue. The Englishman met the "snob" a day or two after, in a banking house. He said: "I desire to see you step out doors." The two men walked out into the Razza Spagne. The "snob" took off his own coat; placed it on the ground, and made for the Englishman. He took to his heels, and hastened from the city. I give you this story to show the feelings of the English towards American travellers.

Special Notices.

DR. SCHENCK'S STANDARD REMEDIES.
The standard remedies for all diseases of the lungs are SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SCHENCK'S SEA-WEED TONIC, and SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS, and if taken before the lungs are destroyed, a speedy cure is effected.
To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary diseases.
The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs; nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.
To enable the Pulmonic Syrup to do this, Schenck's Mandrake Pills and Schenck's Sea-weed Tonic must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver. Schenck's Mandrake Pills act on the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved.
Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative; the alkali of which it is composed mixes with the food, and prevents souring. It assists the digestion, by toning up the stomach to a healthy condition, so that the food and Pulmonic Syrup will make good blood; then the lungs heal, and the patient will surely get well if care is taken to prevent fresh cold.
Dr. Schenck can be consulted at the Quincy House, Boston, on Wednesday, March 25th, April 8th and 22nd, May 13th and 27th.
Advice will be given free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer, the charge is $5.00.

Newport Daily News.

FRIDAY, APRIL 3, 1874.

THE DAY.

Sanborn is trying to avoid appearing before the investigating committee and his arrest is threatened. Congress had better investigate the Treasury Department and let Sanborn go.

Mr. Southwick did not vote on the acceptance of the senate amendment of the prohibitory law permitting the sale of spirits for medicinal and mechanical purposes. The other Newport representatives voted against it.

Unless Mr. Boutwell does something to redeem himself he will win the reputation of being as morally blind as Butler but without that gentleman's boldness and ability leading Republican Senators are charging that Boutwell's absence from the Senate during the financial voting is due solely to his desire to aid the inflationists, without placing himself on record. He declined to pair off with any Senator.

ITS FRUITS.

The proof of the pudding is in the eating and the most energetic opponent of the prohibitory law ought to be silenced if the law accomplishes that for which it was passed. The editor of the Chicago Advance has asked several prominent gentlemen of Maine what their opinion of prohibition in that state is. Gov. Dingley writes in response that the prohibitory law has done more to restrain the evils of intemperance than has any other system of legislative control tried in the state. Twenty three years experience of the law has convinced a large mayority of the people of Maine that the prohibitory law is a useful and a necessary statute.

Senator Hamlin says that in his opinion the law has diminished the consumption of liquor in the state more than fifty per cent. Congressman William P. Frye says:

Twenty-five years ago, the most of our grocery stores, all druggists, all hotels, both in city and country, sold liquors, and in my opinion the majority of grown men used them as a beverage. Poverty, crime, suffering, and ignorance prevailed; our jails were full, our farm-yards empty; the landlord rich, his neighbors for miles around poor; his house well painted, glazed, and blinded, and full of comfort; theirs unpainted, the windows stuffed with rags, the rooms full of nothing but sorrow. How is it today? The sale of liquor has fallen off more than two thirds; more than one-half of the state is absolutely free from it; the corner groceries and taverns have gone forever; so, too, have all the evidences of poverty and suffering. The jails in the three counties adjoining Franklin, Oxford, and Somerset, have been tenantless for more than a year, and I presume the same is true of several other counties.

Ex-Gov. Perham speaks highly of the present law and Senator Morrill says that the number of persons supported at the public charge in 1870 was 4,617, as against 8,963 in 1860. The statistics of crime, it is believed, would show about the same reduction.

REPRESENTATION AND PRIMARY MEETINGS.

To the Editor of the News:

SIR:—Avowing, at the outset, an unselfish, honest purpose, I beg leave, through your paper, to submit a few thoughts arising from the review of the caucus at the State House on Tuesday evening.

The second paragraph of the preamble to the resolutions adopted, argues that an "expression of the popular preference" is necessary to the "guidance" of our representatives, to be, in regard to the election of the new Senator to the national Congress.

As one of a republic, and as a native of Rhode Island, I do not hesitate to say that that sentiment is in direct opposition to the fundamental idea of representation. It degrades the representative, makes him but a messenger to answer to the bell of his constituents, and relieves him entirely of all burden of thought and responsibility. The idea of "guidances," in the sense used in the preamble, cannot but contemplate a binding influence, equivalent to dictation; and that, "we, the people," hold, destroys the essence the very life of intelligent representation in legislative bodies.

I sincerely wish that I might regard the action of that meeting, so far as Mr. Fay is concerned, in the light of a fortuity, but stretching charity not a little, I must think that a great and grave mistake was made;—and was it not for the invasion of a holy principle involved in our national groundwork, made subsequent to the adoption of the resolutions I might not have taken my pen to offer a protest.

Under the guise of "to facilitate the business of the evening," and in harmony with the prescribed "guidances," a nomination of senator and representatives in bulk was flashed upon the meeting with the argument that as the last year's representatives were energetic and courageous in the defence of our honored and ancient military company one good act a thousand others, perhaps, not noticed, and comparatively insignificant and valueless, they the old representatives, save one, should be honored by reëlection; and the former senator, with the three former representatives were thereby nominated with profound salaams and compliments tendered, and poor Mr. Southwick, (who declined reëlection before the meeting), faithful and eloquent as any, was entirely forgotten, cancelled and passed with not a memorial of gratitude, even to a "thank you, sir."

In the superior ability, integrity, and good judgment of representative men, do we rest our hope for proper action in all legislation affecting our own, and the interests of the state generally. As good citizens we are as much bound to respect them for their general action in regard to Bristol, Warren, Wickford, Providence or any other town or city in the state. Aye, infinitely more than for their favor to one or more, great or small corporation in which we as a community are interested.

A reason given for voting like that urged at the caucus named, when weighed in the balance of intelligence and common sense, should be received by citizens as puerile, very narrow and worthless.

No man who was present could say in truth, that a popular expression was obtained; for certainly not one eighth of the electors were there, and the vote could only be considered unanimous simply as there was no negative expression. Many did not vote at all, as many minds adverse to the propositions passed have testified.

Appreciating, to a high degree, the holy right of elective franchise, I earnestly desire that it may be always and forever exercised with noble, pure, and untrammelled motives. Hence the above. A REPUBLICAN.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.

The public debt statement shows a reduction during March of $2,238.

The House committee on public buildings and grounds have agreed to thoroughly emasculate Garfield's bill, introduced some time since, providing that where work has not been commenced on public buildings the appropriations therefor unexpended shall be covered into the Treasury. As modified by the committee the bill will provide that such new buildings as the Secretary of the Treasury may deem imperatively necessary shall be proceeded with. As the clerks in the Treasury Department are very liberal in their views, it is thought that Richardson will not prevent the construction of many public buildings.

In the United States Senate Wednesday, the session was mostly taken up with the consideration of the finance bill, and Mr. Morgan's amendment making the present proportion of banks and currency in the state of Maine the standard for all the states, was rejected. Other amendments were offered, but no other important action was taken in the bill. In the House of Representatives the mining bill was discussed in the morning hour, after which the currency bill was again taken up, and Messrs. Hawley of Connecticut and Phelps of New Jersey made speeches against inflation. The bill for the laws was passed at the evening session.

Dennis endeavored to obtain bail, but as he had on a previous occasion, "jumped" his bail, who had to pay the state some fifty dollars forfeited recognizance and costs, no one seemed willing to run the risk of opening the prison doors for him to enjoy his liberty while awaiting trial and so Dennis was committed to jail for safe keeping, until he is again wanted on Tuesday next, when he will doubtless have a "pass" to the state farm for another term of six months, or, perhaps, a year—it being a second term, if at all.

MR. BOWEN ON TEMPERANCE.

There were a goodly number present at the First Baptist church last evening to hear a temperance address by Mr. George Bowen Jr., of Syracuse, N. Y., and formerly of this city. The speaker presented his subject in a forcible manner and he was listened to throughout with marked attention. He argued that the usual efforts to work reform were begun at the wrong end; that, however much may be said of the wickedness of the traffic in liquor, the drinking of it was a sin and should be looked upon and punished as such. He held that the lesser drinks of cider, beer and ale were the most dangerous because a very large proportion of the drunkards of the country are made such by the taking of these while young. He made an urgent appeal to parents and others having youth in their charge to discountenance the use of these by every means in their power. The dram shop was not the place where drinking habits are formed but in the so called innocent indulgences in the weak liquors. He asserted that the moderate drinkers did more harm to the cause of temperance than the grog shops. Make it a disgrace to touch strong drink at all as a beverage and there would be little to be feared from the places where it is sold to those who have become accustomed to its use through moderate drinking. He urged the removal of all forms of the license law from the statute books and the enforcement as far as possible of laws prohibiting the sale. He held that society had as much right and that it was as consistent for it to pass laws prohibiting the sale of liquor as it had to protect itself from any other sin which increases the burdens of the people and destroys the homes of the land. If a community confesses its inability to make and enforce such laws as are needful for its safety and protection it is a confession that it is in the hands of a bad element and is in a worse slavery than if under the rule of a reigning despot. Mr. Bowen referred to his travels in many parts of the country in the past three years and said that Newport presented a more lamentable sight with its countless rum shops and its number of hard drinkers than any city which he had seen. In closing he referred somewhat to his past life and touched upon his terrible personal experience with the demon of strong drink, that when he finally took the pledge of total abstinence, with nine others, he gave it the broadest interpretation and considered "cider" to mean all kinds of cider and has stood to the present while the others indulged in sweet cider and otherwise gave the pledge a liberal interpretation and have all, to a man, died a premature death or are living wrecks of their former selves. He urged upon those who had never taken the first glass to stand firm as they valued all that was dear to them and for the moderate drinker to reform his habits at once.

At the close of the lecture a vote of thanks to Mr. Bowen was unanimously passed by the meeting.

THE NEWPORT HOSPITAL.

THE FIRST ANNUAL REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES. —THE NEED OF A HOSPITAL IN THIS CITY.—THE HISTORY OF THE UNDERTAKING.—HOSPITAL SUNDAY.—THE FINANCIAL CONDITION OF THE HOSPITAL.

The trustees of the Newport Hospital present to the corporation their first annual report.

The need of a hospital in this city for the reception of the sick and injured who are unable to pay for medical or surgical assistance, or receive proper care and treatment at their own houses has been long felt.

The noble institution at Providence which justly challenges the admiration of all who are familiar with its admirable arrangements does not supply this need. Newport is so isolated from Providence, particularly in winter, that the distance and consequent loss of time before a patient who is seriously ill or injured can obtain proper treatment exposes him to increased suffering and diminishes his chance of recovery. In many cases it may not be possible to remove him from this city without great risk, and, the demands on the resources of the Rhode Island Hospital are so great, it is not always certain he can obtain admission.

In the Spring of 1872 it was determined to make an effort to obtain means to establish and maintain a hospital in this city. An impulse was given to this good work by the energy and liberality of one who although residing here but a portion of the year takes a lively interest in the welfare of our poor and sick and cheerfully gave her time, influence and sympathy to the promotion of this useful charity. Her exertions which contributed so materially to the success of the movement should be gratefully remembered. A committee was appointed to present the subject to the public, solicit contributions and hold as trustees all money collected until an act of incorporation could be obtained. Many of our citizens and Summer residents liberally responded to the appeal and the sum of $21,123,30 was contributed.

An act was obtained from the legislature incorporating the institution under the name of the "Newport Hospital" and in March 1873 it was duly organized and placed under the management of ten trustees consisting of the mayor of Newport, ex officio, and nine others elected by the corporators. The corporation is composed of those named in the act of incorporation, all persons duly elected members thereof and also of all persons who at any one time may give $100 or more to the institution, and each members is entitled to one vote. The committee transferred the amount collected $22,813,30 and all unpaid subscriptions to the organization.

A lot was purchased on Friendship street situated on high ground, apart from the thickly settled portions of the city, commanding a full view of the sea and exposed to its healthy breezes. A building was erected after the plan of the army hospital now adopted by the United States government as best calculated to secure favorable results in the treatment of deseases and injuries. It is well warmed and ventilated, provided with comfortable beds and all necessary appliances to promote the comfort and recovery of patients. The trustees gratefully acknowledge the valuable services of Messrs. George C. Mason & Son who gratuitously superintended its erection and arrangements.

The medical staff is composed of skillful physicians and surgeons who with the usual liberality of their profession give their services without charge.

The hospital was opened for the reception of patients on 22d November last when the first patient was received. Since that time five more have been admitted and one discharged, leaving five now in the hospital. All these patients were admitted free of charge, as they were entirely destitute. It is evident from the applications made to the trustees that the resources of the institution must be largely increased to enable them to carry out its great object of admitting all who are poor and sick without charge. It is very desirable that a fund should be raised the interest of which only should be expended for the benefit of this class of patients and as a foundation the trustees have set aside what is known as the "Elam fund" which has been transferred to them by the city of Newport, which held it in trust "to be paid over to the first hospital that should be established in Newport for the admission of sick or hurt persons who are unable to pay for medical or surgical assistance." This fund amounts to about $2000 and the trustees propose to add from time to time sufficient to raise it to at least $10,000 upon the principal of which it is not intended to encroach except in case of absolute necessity. To increase this fund and meet the current expenses of the hospital the trustees appeal to the continued benevolence of the community. And as there is no form of charity which more commends itself to all men than the establishment and maintenance of hospitals for the care and cure of the poor and sick who are unable to take care of themselves, they believe the appeal will be liberally met. In the eloquent words of Judge Bradley, "An institution of beneficence may be without dishonor a perpetual mendicant upon the charities of the community. That which it is always giving, it may be always receiving. It is the incoming and outgoing of the heavenly breath of charity."

As a means of increasing the revenues of the hospital, the trustees have requested the reverend clergy of all denominations to make an united effort for its benefit by causing a collection to be made in their respective places of worship on the second Sunday of August of this and each succeeding year, which shall be known as the "Hospital Sunday." A simultaneous effort of this kind for the benefit of the hospitals in London has been attended with great success. All religious denominations gave their hearty coöperation and the collections amounted in London on that day to $150-000. The trustees have received a favorable answer to their request, and they hope that all the members of the several religious societies will take such personal interest in the movement as to make it successful in this city.

A proposition has been made to the Treasury Department to take charge of all sick and disabled seamen coming to this port, which has been accepted.

The following abstract of the treasurer's report for the year ending 28th Feb'y. 1874 is presented. As the "Elam fund" was not transferred at that time it is not included in this statement.

No Name.

Many, many people suffer from they know not what. They are not sick—they are not well. There is no name for it. It is simply weakness—a breaking down of the vital forces. Whatever its causes (and they are innumerable), its symptoms are in the main the same. Among the most prominent are extreme lassitude, loss of appetite, loss of flesh, and great mental depression. Indigestion and a stomach rough are also frequently concomitants of this distressing state of body and of mind. The common remark in relation to persons in such a condition is, that they are consumptive. Now, what these unfortunates really want is vigor, vital strength; and as certainly as dawn succeeds darkness, they can recuperate their systems and regain perfect health by resorting to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It is as clear that a life-reviving tonic is required in such cases, as that the dying flame of an empty lamp requires to be revived be a new supply of oil. Perfectly pure and innocuous, containing nothing but the most genial vegetable extracts, and combining the three grand elements of a stomachic, an alterative, and a genial invigorant. Hostetter's Bitters are suitable to all constitutions, and are as applicable to the diseases and disabilities of the feebler sex as to those of men. No words can do justice to its marvelous properties. It stands pre-eminent among the health restoring preparations of the age, and every year adds to its fame, not only in this country, but throughout the civilized world.

Astral Oil.

PRATT'S ASTRAL OIL.

WHAT IS IT? Astral Oil is a derivative of petroleum, produced by a new and improved process of manufacture, which gives it all the good, without any of the objectionable qualities of ordinary refined kerosene. Explosion is guarded against, and families can burn ASTRAL OIL WITH THE SAME ASSURANCE OF SAFETY AS THEY CAN GAS.
ITS QUALITIES—It is perfectly pure, containing no mixtures or chemicals. It gives a clear, uniform and beautiful light, unequalled even by gas. It is free from objectionable odors. It burns in the ordinary kerosene lamps. It is always uniform in quality.
ITS SAFETY—The Astral Oil may be relied upon as non-explosive and in every way perfectly safe to use. If, while burning, a lamp be upset and broken, the contents will not explode or take fire. It is the safest oil that can be made. Persons once using it will have no other. For sale by Grocers generally. d27

Newport Daily News.

FRIDAY, APRIL, 3, 1874.

GENERAL NEWS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Inflationists in the Senate Losing Ground.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Evening. The Senate again adjourned without finishing the finance bill. The inflationists are losing ground to some extent, and they have receded from their extreme demands and now ask for an increase of only forty-six millions of national bank notes, instead of two or three hundred millions, as a day or two ago. Their action today was important as showing that in no event will there be a greater inflation than indicated above.

Good Friday.

Senator Anthony moved that the Senate adjourn over Good Friday, which is tomorrow, but too much anxiety to continue the finance discussion existed, and the Senate refused.

FROM NEW YORK.

The Erie Troubles.

NEW YORK, April 2.—A dispatch from Third Vice President Clarke of the Erie Railway Company, now at Susquehanna Depot, says: There is no trouble whatever on the line now. Everything is working well. I am in full charge. Sent all the soldiers away yesterday. Nearly five thousand cars have passed here since noon, Monday. We shall have no more trouble. All the disabled engines are in running order again. We have all the men we want at present in the shops.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Fire in a School House.

MILWAUKEE, April 2.—Wednesday night, at Middletown, Wis., while the exercises were being held in a school house, a lamp exploded, which set fire to the building. About three hundred persons were present, and became panic striken. In the rush for doors about forty persons were injured, four seriously. The fire burned about half an hour, when it was extinguished by two plucky women, who smothered it with overcoats and carpets.

Fire in Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, April 2.—A fire at Lancaster, Garrard county, Ky., yesterday, destroyed eleven buildings, including the depot, Bank of Lancaster, the News office, several stores and dwellings. Loss estimated at over $60,000.

Escape from Jail.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 2.—Thomas F. Collins, held under requisition from the Governor of Illinois, on the charge of conspiracy, escaped from jail this evening, while the officer was taking him to the warden's table for tea, the warden's attention being meantime diverted by the prisoner's wife. The fugitive was pursued, but a carriage was in waiting a few steps from the door, into which he sprang and was driven off. The wife was taken into custody for abetting his escape, and arraigned before a magistrate and held in $1,500 bail.

Fire at Cohoes, N. Y.

COHOES, N. Y., April 2.—The Tivoli Knitting Mills, owned by J. G. Root & Sons, were totally destroyed by fire this afternoon. Loss $200,000; insurance $180,000. The knitting mill of Gregory & Heller was partially burned. Loss unknown, but fully insured. One thousand workmen are thrown out of employment.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

JANUARY SESSION AT PROVIDENCE.

THURSDAY, April 2.

Senate.

The senate met at half past ten o'clock pursuant to adjournment, Lieut. Gov. Van Zandt in the chair.

Business was received from the house of representatives and disposed of as follows:

Petition of the town council of the town of Jamestown for a resolution to legalize the acts of special constable under the dog law. Referred to the judiciary committee.

The report of the commissioners on shell fisheries. Ordered placed on file.

Also concurrences, with engrossed copies, in the following:

Act amending chapter 25 and 236 of the general statutes "Of the revenue of the state."

Act amending title XIX of the general statutes, "Of corporations."

Act to incorporate the Newport Racket & Tennis Court.

Act repealing chapter 220 of the statutes, "Of public schools in Woonsocket," and chapter 237 of the statutes.

Mr. Cook introduced a resolution to print 1000 copies of the public law passed at this session, the same to be distributed to all parties who have hitherto had or hereafter may have copies of the general statutes. Adopted.

Mr. Powel introduced a resolution providing for the appointment of a joint special committee to consist of three from the senate and five from the house, to take into consideration the subject of temperance, with power to sit in recess; and to report at the next May session. Adopted; and Messrs. Powel of Newport, Blake of Cumberland, and Elsbree of Cranston, were appointed on the part of the senate.

A second message from the house communicated the following business:

An act making appropriations for the support of the state government for the year ending April 30, 1875. Referred to the finance committee.

On motion of Mr. Cross, the senate took a recess until one o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The senate re-assembled at one o'clock, Lieut. Governor Van Zandt in the chair.

Mr. Verry offered a resolution making appropriations in amounts and to the societies following: To the Woonsocket Agricultural Society, $500; to the Aquidneck Agricultural Society, of Newport, $500; and to the Rhode Island Society for the Encouragement of Domestic Industry, $1,000;—for the purpose of enabling these societies to offer premiums for agricultural products, neat cattle, &c., at the exhibitions which these societies propose to hold in the ensuing Autumn; such societies to make report to the General Assembly of the disposition to such sums.

Mr. Osborne asked whether these societies had any of last year's appropriations left unexpended.

Mr. Gould said the Aquidneck Society had about $500 left.

Mr. Gould said the Aquidneck Society had drawn all their appropriation, and not only spent all that, but had spent $500 additional. The $500 it has now on hand was received from gate money, etc.

After further discussion by the gentlemen named and others, the resolution was referred to the finance committee.

House.

The house met at 11.30, Mr. Speaker Metcalf in the chair.

Mr. Hill of Woonsocket, called up the motion to reconsider the vote upon the militia bill, and moved that it be laid on the table. Carried.

Mr. Dixon, for the judiciary committee, reported in favor of the following matters: Act in amendment of chapter 240, section 7, of the general statutes, prohibiting the city of Providence from the further use of the county jail for city prisoners, the jail being full to overflowing.

Also an amendment of chapter 83, title 17, and for the repeal of section 20 and 28 of the same chapter, in reference to damages caused by dogs among sheep. Read and passed in concurrence.

Also, amendment to chapter 129, "Of bills of exchange and promissory notes," making decoration day a legal holiday. Passed.

Mr. Spencer, of Providence, called up the second order of the day, the act in amendment of chapter 79, "Of the suppression of intemperance," as sent back from the senate with an amendment allowing the sale of alcohol for mechanical, artistical and medicinal purposes, and moved that the house concur in the amendment.

Mr. Cooke, of Warren, called attention to the effect of the bill in rendering a man incapable of holding liquor.

The speaker explained that the bill called for the omission of the word "licensed," whereas the word "license" could remain.

Mr. Eaton, of North Providence, said that there should be no hurry in the matter. He called for the reading of the present law and the one proposed.

Both acts having been read, Mr. Clarke, of South Kingstown, said that the whole thing was a farce from beginning to end. The act was passed last week under the pressure of an approaching election, and other pressure, and had been amended by the Senate. The adoption of that amendment would simply make free rum. Any man who was hypocrite enough to pass out liquor over his bar for culinary, medicinal, or mechanical purposes, could sell it without any restraint whatever.

Mr. Eaton said that he would move that the bill would be indefinitely postponed. Then a joint committee could be appointed to examine the whole subject, and to report at the May session.

Mr. Eaton withdrew his motion for indefinite postponement, and the House was called on the question of the adoption of the senate amendment, the vote standing as follows:

Ayes—Messrs. Speaker Adams of Lincoln, Adams of North Providence, Babcock, Bacon, Bates, Bottey, Capwell, Carpenter, Clarke, of Cumberland, Clarke of Burrillville, Cooke of Warren, Cooke of Providence, Crandall, Darling, Davis, Day, Dedrick, Dixon, Greene, Hall of North Providence, Hall of Providence, Hammond, Harris, Hill of Woonsocket, Hill of Foster, Hopkins, Howard, Howland, Macomber, Manchester, Miller, Page, Ralph, Ross, Sisson, Slade, Smith of Woonsocket, Smith of Barrington, Spink, Spencer, Springer, Steere, Thomas, Whipple.—45.

Nays—Arnold, Chickering, Clarke of South Kingstown, Eaton Fairbanks, Hill of Cranston, Kent, Mathewson, Miner, Perkins Pratt, Sheldon, Staples, Swinburne, Townsend, Winsor.—16.

The bill was declared passed.

Senate resolution to appoint commissioners for the temperance inquiry was laid on the table.

Mr. Enton presented the petition of Mrs. Sophia L. Little for the appointment of a state agent to act with the Prisoners' Aid Association.

A discussion followed on the merits of the bill, and pending a decision the house took a recess of one hour.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Mr. Cooke, of Providence, asked a suspension of the rules to permit him to introduce the following bill; an act in amendment of Chapter 10, of the General Statutes "Of the election of Representatives to Congress."

SECTION 1. The first district shall consist and be composed of the territory embraced within the following towns, to wit: Newport, Providence, Smithfield, Lincoln, Barrington, Portsmouth, Middletown, Bristol, Tiverton, Little Compton, Warren, East Providence, Pawtucket, New Shoreham and Jamestown. The second district shall consist and be composed of the territory embraced within the following towns to wit: Warwick, Westerly, North Kingstown, South Kingstown, East Greenwich, Scituate, Glocester, Charlestown, West Greenwich, Coventry, Exeter, Richmond, Cranston, Hopkington, Johnston, Foster, Burrillville, North Smithfield, Woonsocket, and Cumberland.

The bill was read and referred to the judiciary committee.

The speaker announced as members on the part of the house of the committee on the taxation of church and school property, Messrs. Cooke of Warren, Day of Providence, and Clark of Cumberland.

Mr. Clarke, of South Kingstown, called from the table the [senate resolution to] pay to the pages of the General Assembly the sum of $65 each, and moved to suspend by substituting $2 per day. Amendment adopted, and resolution passed without opposition.

Mr. Spencer called from the table his bill for an act in relation to savings institutions.

The bill was referred to the committee on finance.

No further business appearing the House adjourned until Friday, at 11:30.

New Today.

MANURE COVERED OR UNCOVERED.

Lord Kinnard in a letter to the Scotsman, gives the result of an experiment testing the value of covered or uncovered dung in its application on soil seeded with potatoes and wheat. He says:

I have no hesitation in recommending, as the result of a large practical experience, the adoption of covered courts in every point of view, whether for feeding in winter or soiling cattle in summer. They are by far the cheapest form of construction of farm buildings. I can speak from an experience of twenty years, as to the health of the animals, economy of feeding, and, above all, the value of the manure. I give the particulars of a very careful experiment on a field of twenty acres equally divided, a rich loam lying on the trap. Two acres out of each ten, having been carefully measured, gave the following results:

POTATOES GROWN WITH UNCOVERED DUNG.
First, one acre produced 7 tons, 6 cwt., 8 lbs.
Second, one acre produced 7 tons, 18 cwt., 97 lbs.

POTATOES GROWN WITH COVERED DUNG.
First, one acre produced 11 tons, 17 cwt., 56 lbs.
Second, one acre produced 12 tons, 12 cwt., 26 lbs.

The next year the weather was wet, grain soft, and not in very good order; but the following was the amount of produce:

WHEAT GROWN WITH UNCOVERED DUNG.

	Produce in grain, bush.	Weight per bush. lbs.	Produce in straw, lbs.
First acre	41	19	61½	3,344
Second acre	42	33	61½	3,520

WHEAT GROWN WITH COVERED DUNG.

	Produce in grain, bush.	Weight per bush. lbs.	Produce in straw, lbs.
First acre	55	5	61	4,840
Second acre	51	47	61	4,620

With these results and the appearance of the manure when carted to the field; I have never doubted the great value of covered courts so far as manure is concerned; and long experience has proved them of great advantage to the health of the animal, whether in being fed for the butcher or reared for the grazier, coupled with great economy of food and labor.

The above needs no comment, only to ask the reader to note the tons of potatoes and bushels of wheat lost by exposing the manure to the rains and wind before carried to the field.

If the farmers in this town would save and keep under cover till carried to the field all the manure made by their cattle, hens, sink, etc., and then wisely apply it, the products of their farms would in four years be doubled, I have not the slightest doubt.

At the present time I believe that more than half of the fertilizing power of the manure made on the farms is wasted and lost.

This is a bold statement, and if any man doubts it let him ride through the town with his eyes open and see the piles of the solid manure (the liquid being left under the stable floors) laying under the eaves of buildings, on side hills, and by the roadside, where its very life is being washed and bleached out while the land is "hungering and thirsting" for it. No wonder there are cries of short crops. It would require a miracle to make it otherwise.

AN INCH AND A HALF OF LAND.—The San Francisco Chronicle says that on a recent afternoon, a judge, a clerk of the court, a sheriff, a short hand reporter, three lawyers, a plaintiff, two defendants and six witnesses, assisted by an audience of outsiders, consumed some hours in the fifteenth district court, in that city, in determining who owned a piece of ground an inch and a half wide, and in thirty feet running down to nothing. The land was in the rear of a lot on Tehama street and worth at the utmost not to exceed $5. The suit was an action in ejectment brought by Daniel Russell against Fortman & Marx, the brewers. It appeared that the defendants had a survey made, and more than five years before this suit was brought put their building on the line both parties had agreed to, and that the plaintiff had an inch of the defendant's lot in the front, which more than compensated for the loss in the rear. So the court told the defendants to go in peace, and made the plaintiff pay the costs.

PATENT

PARABOLA SPECTACLES.

Constructed in accordance with the Philosophy of Nature,

ADMIRABLY ADAPTED TO THE ORGAN OF SIGHT, AND AFFORDING ALTOGETHER THE BEST ARTIFICIAL

Help to the Human Vision.

The Parabola Glasses can be used for the greatest length of time, either by day or night, with perfect ease, (when selected to suit the state of the eye,) and never cause that giddiness of the head, or unpleasant sensation to the eyes that many experience from using the common kind, but tend to strengthen and improve the sight.

[From the Rev. Thomas Potter, Norwich Conn.]

Having used a pair of the Parabola Spectacles, I am fully persuaded of their superiority over every other kind, and am confident that the best recommendations are impartial trials. THOMAS POTTER,

[From the Hon. Isaac Hill, late Governor of New Hampshire.]

I have used the Parabola Spectacles for the last three years; and with eyes prematurely injured by severe catarrh for more than forty years, I find them unsurpassed, especially in night reading. ISAAC HILL.

[From M. G. Kerr, M. D., Norristown, Pa.]

I do most willingly bear my testimony in favor of the superiority of the Patent Parabola over all other kinds of Spectacles. They are constructed upon the best established and understood principles of Optics, and their adaptation to the human Eye in its different conditions of vision is so perfect as to render sight easy without effort. In my opinion, none others should be used, since the Eyes once used to these do not seem to grow old, and by having a focus at any point of the surface they appear to restore the eyes to their youthful energy. M. G. KERR, M. D.

[From Isaac Heister, M. D., Reading, Pa.]

I have for several years worn the Patent Parabola Spectacles, and have found them decidedly superior to the Spectacle glasses heretofore in use.

ISAAC HEISTER, M. D.

☞ Should the focus of these Glasses, after making trial of them, be found not adapted to the sight, purchasers are particularly requested to have them changed until suited.

Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures by its mild, healing properties, to which the disease yields when the system has been put in perfect order with Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which should be taken earnestly to correct blood and system, which are always at fault, also to act specifically, upon the diseased glands of the nose and its chambers. Catarrh Remedy should be applied with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, with which medicine can be carried high up and perfectly applied to all parts of passages and chambers in which sores and ulcers exist, and from which discharge proceeds. So successful has this course of treatment proven, that the proprietor offers $500 Reward for a case of "Cold in Head" or Catarrh which he cannot cure.
